

Autumn 2009 Newsletter

News

Windows 7 - the latest version of Windows will be in the shops from October 22, so if you are looking to buy a new computer I would recommend waiting until after that date and making sure your new PC comes preloaded with this vastly improved and much more reliable new version

AVG 9.0 - A new version of the award winning and PC Assist recommended anti-virus and firewall package has just been released - featuring identity protection, enhanced security and a faster scanning engine - updated usage and installation guides are available on my website

Buying a new computer? - Take a look at my PC Buyers Guide on the help page of my website and also the links page for a regularly updated list of recommended desktops and laptops

Quick Reference Guides - All guides recently updated and new guides added for Windows 7, Windows Live Essentials, Routine Maintenance and Genie Backup - If you find any mistakes or cannot find the information you require, then please let me know via email and I will rectify the mistakes and if necessary create new sections to cover any areas missed
